

*The Society
for Hellenic-Iranian Studies*

Academic Committee

AMELIE KUHRT

Biography

Prof. Amelie Kuhrt, FBA teaches ancient history at the University College London. Her areas of expertise lie in the social, cultural and political history of the ancient Middle East (c.3000-100 BC), especially the Assyrian, Babylonian, Persian and Seleucid empires. Her recent publications include: The Ancient Near East, c.3000-330 BC (1995); ‘Greeks’ and ‘Greece’ in Mesopotamian and Persian Perspectives (The Twenty-First J.L. Myres Memorial Lecture, Oxford; 2002); ‘Making History: Sargon of Agade and Cyrus the Great of Persia,’ in W. Henkelman & A. Kuhrt (eds), A Persian Perspective (Achaemenid History XIII), 2003; ‘Israelite and Near Eastern historiography,’ in A. Lemaire & M. Saebo (eds), Vetus Testamentum Supplementum 80 (2000).